The Man from the Rear Car.

A couple were occupying a middle scatio the ladies' car, having got on at a way station. Probably attracted by the invisible fascination which never fails to bring about a contretemys, a gentleman from a rear car came in and tock a seat immediately behind the pair. There was a shock of surprise as his eyes first fell up on them, and a deathly pallor overspread his countenance. But this was for an instant only. Then a flush succeeded, and a queer spile began to play around the corners of his set, de termined lips. An hour passed. The billing and cooing went on, and the man was a patient and evidently an interested listener. The neople in the car began to perceive that somethian unusual was going on. Figally, the man leac-ed forward, with that peculiar smile still haver ing about his lips, and said; "I beg pardon, but you seem to be cuj wise yourselves immensely."

The lady rose with a stifled scream, and wheeling around confronted the stranger with a pallid face and great, staring eyes. Heresan panion was no less disconcerted. He, too, had rism to his feet, and stood upeasily looking at the intruder, flushing and paling by turns.
"My God, it has come at last!" wailed the woman. The stranger was cool and imperiurbabl "You did not expect to see me, did you?"

"Heaven knows I did not!" exclaimed the lady, from whose eyes the tears had already began to trickle. "Well it's not unusual. People often meet under peculiar circumstances. I suppose you are on your bridal tour?" The lady covered her face with her hands and sank back into her seat. She had already begun to sob hysterica'ly. "I happened along this way by mere chance," continued the stranger. "I am going West to Leadville. I thought I would try and do something for the children, inasmush as you have left us. But I trust you will not be that accidental meeting disturb your er joyment. The woman was monning in alless missty. "I wish you all sorts of happiness, and will no longer intrude upon you. This, ladies and gentlemen," facing around to the speciators. "is my runaway wife and her lover. They are very nice people;" and then, turning away, he stalked out, leaving the guilty couple alone in bumiliation and shame. At the next station they quit the train .- Denver News. A TRICK OF THE CLAIRVOYANTS -In deaw ing out the facts of personal or family history, clairvoyants do not always ask direct questions, but rather make statements with an implied interrogation, to which the victim, ofcentimes cotirely unconsciously, responds by word or look or gesture, or perhaps by all three; and, at a later stage of the interview, these secret facts are artifully given back to the victim, who has no recollection of having previously impart ed them, and will not believe that he has done so, but prefers to believe that he is in the presence of Divinity. It is not only possible but easy for a practcal adept to draw out in this way minute and elaborate details of sceret family history. A few years ago, while connected with one of the public institutions of this city, I made a number of experiments in this line. I to'd the patients afflicted with various forms of nervous and allied disorders, not to tell me about their symptoms, nor give me any facts in their cases, but to let me tell them; and then I would preceed to indicate, after the manner of a clairvoyant, the locality of their maladies, and the history of their troubles. In the majority of cases I was successful, and made out the diagnosis to the satisfaction of those who sought my advice, and with good reason, for nothing that I could do prevented them from telling me, although I asked them no questions; up intentionally and unconsciously, they would guide me at every stage of the interview. By a little practice any one could easily acquire this art; and long study, such as professional clairvoyants bestow upon this subject, develops great skill in thus managing and deluding the unwary and non expert. - Scribner for July.

CANDOR .- There is nothing which sheds so fine a light upon the human mind as candor. I was called "whiteness" by the ancien's for purity, and it has always won the esteem due to the most admirable of the virtues. However little sought for or practiced, all do it the homa ge of their praise, and all feel the power and o larms of its it flaence. The man whose opic. ion makes the deepest mark upon his fellows men, whose influence is the most lasting and efficient, whose friendship is instinctively sous ht where others have proved faithless, is not the men of brilliant parts, or flattering tongue, or splendid genius, or commanding power, but he whose lucid and ingenuous truth can tracs nit the heart's real feelings pure and without refraction. There are other qualities witch are more showy, and other traits that have a higher place in the world's code of honor; but none wear better, or gather less tarnish by use, or claim a deeper homage in that silent reverence which the mind must pay to virtue. SPECIAL NOTICE. - To the ladies : We have now in store a large stock of indies', Men's and Childrens' Low Quarter Shoes, suitable for the present season. These goods are beat tiful, handsome and durable, and will be sold at such prices as cannot fail to please. All in want will please call and examine for themselves W. B. WADDEY.
